

Lady Lumley's School Newsletter

14th November 2014 Issue Number 277

Dear Parents, Carers and Friends

There is only one topic of conversation in the school at the moment – the Young Americans have arrived! I was able to see some of the early rehearsals last night and the energy in the hall was absolutely amazing. About a 100 of our students with some youngsters from St Joseph's, Ryedale and Seamer worked until 9:00 in the evening with the troupe and they will all spend the whole of Friday getting ready for Saturday's show. It looks like it will be an impressive affair and I am really looking forward to Saturday night.

On a more 'normal' note, I must congratulate the Year 11 students for the way they behaved during the recent trail examinations. Their conduct was exemplary and this was commented on many times by staff during the examination period. The students will receive the results of their examinations on Thursday next week in the hall, in a process that mirrors the actual results day in August 2015. I hope they get the results they want.

The Young Americans have landed!

45 Young Americans arrived at Lady Lumley's yesterday to start a 3-day extravaganza of music, dance and acting workshops.

The atmosphere has been electric, and students are enjoying the opportunity not only to work with an outside troop, but also with students from different year groups and even different schools. Their enthusiasm and hard work has been truly impressive. When asked to sum up their experience so far, the resounding response was 'amazing'!

The 3 days of workshops will culminate in a final performance on Saturday night at the school at 7 p.m., which will be open to the public. Tickets are limited so if you would like to attend then get in early and contact middleton@ladylumleys.net stating how many tickets you require.

Lady Lumley's School Anthology 2014 Update

The first draft printed copy of the school anthology arrived through the post this week. It has now been passed over to the art department, who will be working with their Year 10 GCSE students to design a cover. Once the cover is complete, an order form will be sent home to all students involved and orders will be taken for copies to arrive just in time for Christmas.

Any students that submitted stories to the short story competition earlier in the year will have their work published in the book, which will also be available in ebook format and on sale on Amazon in the new year. Current Year 8 and 10 students have also contributed short stories who were in Mr Wilcock's English class last year. There is also a poetry section which includes the work of the current Year 9 students that had English with Mrs Harvey last year.

The 2015 short story competition, as well as the opening of submissions for next year's anthology, will be launched in January, an ideal opportunity for all of those who missed out on being included this year. For more information on the anthology please contact Mr Holbrook in Learning Support.

Year 10 Netball

The Scarborough and District Netball Tournament was held at Ryedale School. In the first match, Lady Lumley's School faced Scarborough College A. In the past Lady Lumley's have suffered heavy defeats to SC, but thanks to some outstanding defending from Amy Cook and Rosie Bircumshaw the match finished in a draw. The next two matches finished in defeat, losing to the teams that finished first and second overall. The team remained confident and were positive going into the next few games. With some great play on the wing from Maisy Skinner, Rachel Mo and Rebecca Simpson, the team stayed in control of the centre third, coupled with some excellent shooting from Olivia Webster and Imogen Rose. Lady Lumley's School's best score was a 9-0 victory. The passing across the final third by Jenny Roberts and Evie Wright was strong, accurate and contributed well to the team's success. Lady Lumley's School finished third in the tournament, a finish that the whole team were proud of!

The progress that the team have made is amazing, very well played girls. Written by Evie Wright.
